Lambda Sigma Upsilon

Lambda Sigma Upsilon (LSU) was founded on April 5, 1979. LSU's 20 founders were men who believed that underrepresented groups, particularly ethnic minorities, at colleges and universities were not getting the attention or services needed to advance academic successes. Thus, LSU was created as a support system for minority groups, as well as to provide a family away from home.

The LSU founders developed four goals that embody the fraternity's purpose: academic excellence, cultural awareness and diversity, brotherhood and acting as community role models. Although LSU's roots are Latino, it welcomes all races, creed, religions and ethnicities.

Letter from the Editor:

I always like to say if an opportunity doesn't exist, make it exist. If an opportunity knocks on your door, you better open the door and pursue it with passion.

I want to thank those who helped me make The Image's 2013 edition possible: Rosie Braude, Larry Litwin, Frank Spitale and Emmy Kachel, Matt Costanzo, Morgan Redes and Cory Williams.

Braude is an amazing adviser and even better person. I am honored to work with you. Thank you for your support throughout the year.

Litwin – without you this opportunity would not exist. Thank you for connecting Braude and I.

Kachel and Spitale, the yearbook gets its success from you. Thank you for your continued assistance.

Redes — thank you for outstanding photographs. Costanzo — thank you for always having an answer. Williams — thank you for always being there.

I am privileged to provide this yearbook as a tangible reminder to Rowan University and its students of the memories made, opportunities had and where it all began.

I want to congratulate all graduating seniors. Commencement is the beginning, not the end. You all have the opportunity to change the world by taking your valuable education and turning your dreams into reality. Always remember: open the door when an opportunity knocks and pursue it with passion.

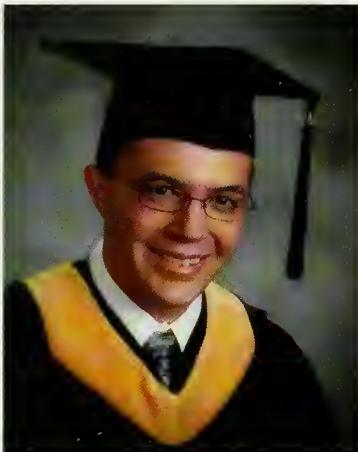

I wish you all luck on your future endeavors. The class of 2013 left impeccable footprints at Rowan and will leave ever-lasting impressions wherever each individual goes.

Congratulations!

Sincerely,
Corinthea Harris,
Editor-in-Chief
